Command Master Chief's Corner

Tidehawks,

With the Annual Military Inspection (AMI) on the horizon, it's time to take a critical look at our appearance in uniform. AMI is an inspection, and we should look inspection ready. Place an emphasis on haircuts and personal hygiene. We do not have a uniform inspection next week, thus this is a perfect time to take your uniforms to the dry cleaners. Spend a few hours on your dress shoes. Use a ruler to place your uniform items in the exact placement. We are three weeks out from AMI, so there is no reason for our uniforms not to be tip-top shape.

AMI Pass and Review practices are scheduled for all Officers, Platoon Commanders, Guidon bearers and sideboys. The practices are as follows:

November 21, 28, 30 and December 5 at Chapel Hill Church Gym at 1445-1645.
( I ask that the team show up on the 21st. 4 practices might be reduced if we have it down.)

NJROTC is helping setup and break down the booths for Winterfest. I will need volunteers, who are not involved in AMI practice, to help out. There are four hours of community service available. More hours are available for those who want to volunteer. You can sign up on Schoology under your Class of 20XX section.

Thank you for your motivation!!

CMC Stockton
